

Into the Blue

Spending time on the water is the perfect way to relax and offers visitors a unique view of Grand Cayman. The options are virtually endless, from snorkelling tours in North Sound to sunset cruises along the world-famous Seven Mile Beach.

A cruise to Rum Point is a great way to experience not only the calm waters of North

Sound, but also the unique, laidback ambience of the chill-out spot, which is a firm favourite with locals and visitors. One of the most perfect memories is a dinner cruise along Seven Mile Beach, watching the sun set over the ocean. If you prefer to get away from the crowds and explore Cayman's waters in private, why not try a charter?

With luxury charters to choose from, you can spend your days discovering the island in style. Try the east end of the island for fantastic fishing, romp with the stingrays at Stingray City or pull up anchor at one of more than 350 dive sites. The key is flexibility.

A private charter at your pace – it's the perfect way to explore Cayman.

The ultimate tour experience

Tours Cayman offers its clients something different from the usual standard tours, specialising in custom tours and popular attractions at a low rate. Tours Cayman is a family-run business with three boats and an air-conditioned bus under owner Shane Ebanks, who is assisted by his father and brother. Tours Cayman relies heavily on combination excursions that allow people to see any three attractions for one low fee. For example, Hell, Boatswain's Beach and The Old Homestead in West Bay can be seen on an air-conditioned bus as a custom tour. Pricing is in the range of US$35-55 per person. The company's signature excursion is a combination tour featuring stops at Boatswain's Beach, Stingray City and Coral Garden (a snorkelling paradise off the beaten path). The price is a low US$45 per person. The hidden gem is that tours are restricted. With only 10-25 people assigned to a tour there is more time and space to enjoy what Cayman has to offer. Now, that's a tour we'd love to experience.

See the island your way

With clear, warm water all around, Cayman is a paradise for anyone with a love of the ocean. However, getting out on the water can be a bit of a challenge. That is where a charter company comes in. Cayman Private Tours has been in operation since April 2009 and can tailor a tour exactly to a customer's specifications. The company offers an air-conditioned, 46 foot sport fishing boat that offers all the luxuries one could ask for. With private fishing charters for up to 12 people, or snorkeling excursions for up to 20 people, there is a tour to suit every need.

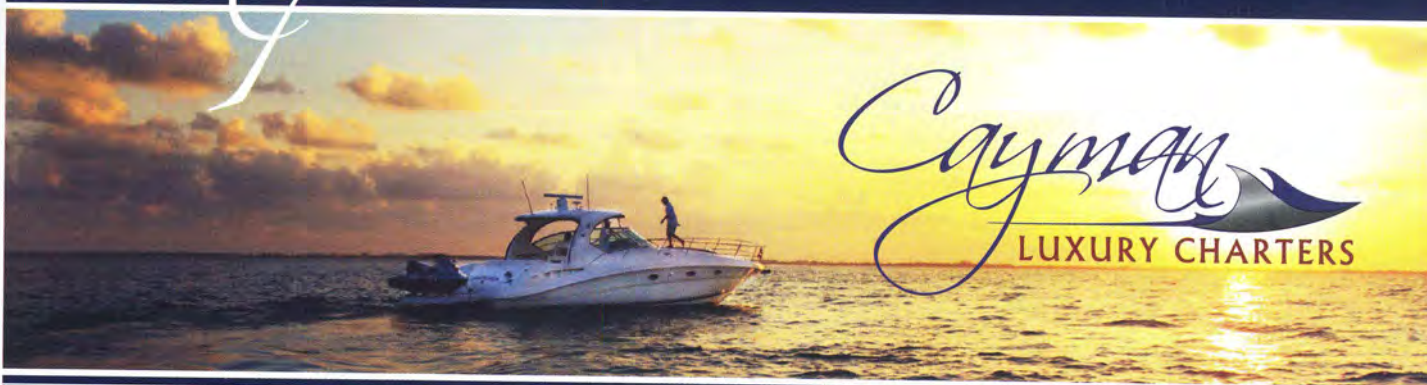

Captain Phil Coley is passionate about providing his customers with the best possible excursion. "You tell us where and when, it's your trip so you can have it your way," says Phil.
